[illegible]

A writer in the [illegible] Advertiser reveals a [illegible] by the [illegible] of [illegible] bank. He charges that while they have [illegible] sufficient to meet all their liabilities, they have agents out all over the country buying up [illegible] notes at [illegible] cents on the dollar. If a private individual were to pay his debts in this manner, when he was abundantly able to pay dollar for dollar, he would be denounced as a swindler; but when a bank resorts to such a [illegible] procedure it is all right. How long will the people suffer themselves to be [illegible] and plundered [illegible]?

AN APPEAL AND DISCLAIMER.

[illegible]

A NEW FEATURE IN ELECTIONS.—[illegible]

[illegible]

The Alton Courier, a paper of considerable ability, publishes the Governor's Proclamation, and comments upon it at some length as follows:

[illegible]

The Courier's comments indicate an exasperation growing out of disappointment, more than any good reason why the Governor should have acted otherwise than he did and given unqualified and unequivocal certificates of election in the cases referred to. The Governor is an executive not a judicial officer. It is his duty to execute the law as he understands its plain letter, and no part of that duty to decide upon the constitutionality of any of our State laws with the national constitution. [illegible]

ADDRESS

TO

FRIENDS OF TEMPERANCE

IN ILLINOIS.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—At a meeting of the various temperance organizations and [illegible] of this city, held March 21st, A. D. 1855, the following resolution, among others, was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That a committee composed of six persons be appointed by this meeting, comprising one from each of the temperance organizations in the city, to prepare an address to the friends of temperance in this state, urging energy of action on the part of all friends of a prohibitory law, which address shall be sent to every temperance organization of the state."

In pursuance of the above resolution, the undersigned were appointed a committee to carry out its recommendation, and in entering upon the discharge of the duty assigned us, we cannot but be impressed with a feeling that the work is one of great importance.

On the first Monday of June next, the electors of this state are to decide through the peaceful, yet mighty engine, the ballot box, whether this state shall be freed from the blighting curse entailed upon so many of our race by the unholy and demoralizing traffic in alcoholic drinks.

The vote which is to decide this issue is of far greater importance than any that the Sovereigns of this great and growing State have ever been called to give.

It is a vote which temperance men not only, but RUM SELLERS and RUM DRINKERS regard with anxious fear. If we FAIL to carry this law before the people, the evils of intemperance will not only be perpetuated but its intensity will be greatly increased by giving an apparent popular sanction to the traffic.

Be not deceived by false appearances or statements, nor lulled into inactivity by the hope or expectation of an easy victory. Be assured that in this canvass "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

The enemies of the law are organizing for the campaign. They will be vigilant and active—no means will be left untried to defeat the law. Several thousand dollars have already been subscribed by Liquor Dealers and Brewers in this city to crush the hopes of their innocent victims. Shall temperance men be less engaged for the success of so just a cause than its enemies are to defeat it? To portray the evils of intemperance is not the purpose of this address—They are too vividly stamped upon the memory of all. But few towns, neighborhoods, or even families, but have felt its curse. We therefore implore you as lovers of morality, as friends of law and order, and of humanity, to put forth every effort at your command to produce the adoption of the law. Work, systematically—energetically—harmoniously and unitedly—work collectively and individually. Every one has a work to do, and let each do whatsoever his hands find to do with his might. Secure as far as possible the aid and co-operation of the local press throughout the State—endeavor to increase the circulation of all such papers as take bold and manly ground in favor of the law.—See that such papers as are friendly to the law loose nothing by an open advocacy of its adoption.

Let each School District in the State be thoroughly canvassed—temperance tracts be disseminated—temperance papers and tracts be placed in the hands of every family—the lukewarm awakened—the despondent encouraged, and the doubtful convinced.

Faithful and efficient lecturers should be employed and remunerated without being allowed at any time to resort to a public collection.

The aid of all the Clergymen in the State should be sought, and if possible, secured, and they should be respectfully but earnestly requested to work for the cause both in and out of [illegible]

POST OFFICE ROBBERY CASE.

BEFORE UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER J. T. MOULTON,

Chicago, April 12, 1855.

The complaint in this case is as follows:

United States of America, }
District of Illinois. } ss.

Allan Pinkerton being now duly sworn, deposes and says he is Special Mail Agent of Post Office Department of the U. S. and that one John T. Gould has been guilty under the laws of the U. S. of taking certain letters and packages, addressed W. T. Buck & Co. from and out of the Chicago Post Office, and has opened, embezzled and destroyed such letters or packages, the same containing articles of value, and also that said Gould has opened letters addressed to said William T. Buck & Co., before delivering to the persons to which such letter were directed which said letters said Gould has taken out of the Chicago Post Office, the same having been in custody of said Post Office, and prays process of law.

ALLAN PINKERTON.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 11th day of April, 1855.

J. T. MOULTON, U. S. Com. N. Dist. Illinois.

The defendant in this suit was arrested on Tuesday afternoon by Special Mail Agent ALLAN PINKERTON, and brought up yesterday morning for examination. He is a young man of about 26 or 27 years old; general appearance, well dressed, and of good demeanor. He has light hair and whiskers, a broad but stooping forehead and a restless eye. He betrayed very little if any emotion during the examination. His business has been selling Lottery tickets.

The prisoner was defended by F. Ballingall and Wm. Underwood, Esqs., and the government prosecuted by Thomas Hoyne, Esq.

The first witness examined was Hezekiah Wyscoop, assistant Postmaster in Chicago Post Office. Knew of letters received in that office addressed to W. J. Buck & Co. Have kept a register of such letters in a book, commencing on 1st of January. These facts are embodied in an affidavit which was here presented to the witness. The entries on the affidavit are copied from the book. These letters after being thus registered were placed in the drawer of W. J. Buck & Co. No. 2390. Mr. Gould had the key to this drawer. He was in the habit of receiving the mail of W. J. Buck & Co. from that drawer. Knew that the prisoner received these letters. Have seen him open the drawer and take out the mail. Has come up to my room to receive registered letters. On one occasion when he came up stairs for that purpose I saw a letter in his hand which he had taken from the drawer but a moment before, from Lockport, Ind. Soon after he came to the office and entered complaint of not receiving letters containing money which had been sent to him. He complained of not receiving this same letter from Lockport which I saw in his hand. Brought a letter from the same correspondent stating that the first letter had been sent and not answered. The matter was then referred to Mr. Pinkerton for examination.

The prisoner frequently brought similar complaints to me; some thirty or forty times. Buck & Co. were engaged in the Lottery business.—Gould frequently brought to me letters from correspondents complaining that he had not answered letters sent to him containing money.

Cross Ex. The letter from Lockport, Ind., before mentioned, had a singular appearance and attracted my attention. It was done up in an unusual and bungling manner. It was in a buff envelope; all of Buck & Co's. letters were registered in a book before they were put in their drawer; the prisoner engaged the drawer for Buck & Co., and I supposed he was acting for them; there was but one mail came from Lockport, Ind., that day, and it contained but one letter for this office; that letter was first registered, and then placed in W. J. Buck & Co's drawer, and a few moments after the prisoner brought it to my room. The prisoner has returned a letter placed by mistake in his box, addressed to J. H. Burch & Co. This letter contained money.

[illegible] cross. Know of a letter being received from Lockport, Ind., complaining of a letter sent from there containing money, the receipt of which was not acknowledged. Letter produced. Mr. Gould opened this letter. Looked at files and found no such letter and money had been received. Was at post office with him when he received letters. No one but him got letters from the office. His character for honesty is irreproachable. Buck & Co. are in Baltimore and Cleveland. Letters are always answered promptly. They received from $100 to $150 a day in this city.—Do not sell lottery tickets to persons living in this city. Gould's salary is $1,500 a year from June last—to continue three years. Have frequently seen him open letters. Sometimes he would open letters with no money in them, although they spoke of having money in them.—He was in the habit of taking these letters to the post-master's room.

Cross Ex. Been in the Lottery business. Do not sell tickets in this city. Do sell in the State. Am in the employ of Buck & Co., of Baltimore and Cleveland. Will not tell what their business is. Don't know how much money they receive here. Will not say what this money is received for. Do not know who sent this money. Will not say what my business is in the establishment. Know Buck & Co. personally. Will not tell their personal description. Don't know how long I have known them. Have been in Chicago one year. Will not say where my office is. (shown an envelope.) Have seen that before. That is one of those which was said to contain money, but which did contain none. Mr. Gould answers nearly all the letters received. Have taken letters out of the office addressed to Edgar & Co. Their business was lottery business. They are in Maryland. I get Edgar & Co.'s letters now. They are put in my box. They advertise lottery business here.

C. A. Clark, sworn. Know the general character of the defendant to be good.

The testimony here closed, and Mr. Hoyne summed up for the prosecution. He read the provisions of the Act in relation to Post Office Robbery, etc., and raised the point that the accused was guilty of embezzlement, notwithstanding he may have received the letters lawfully. That the act was intended to cover every kind of fraudulent appropriations of mail matter. Mr. Hoyne took the ground that the letters had not reached the destination for which they were intended. They belonged to Mr. W. J. Buck, & Co. The accused has offered no evidence that they had ever gone to them, but had denied having received them, charging the theft to the Government. The government had shown that he did receive them. The inference was that he had fraudulently appropriated them. He admitted that if Buck & Co. had taken the letters from the office themselves there would be no case; but as to the accused, although a properly authorized agent, not being principal, it was different.

Mr. Underwood rejoined to the argument of Mr. Hoyne in a brief manner. He argued that the government must have a constructive property in or custody of the mail matter to bring the case within the act. The accused was a legal agent, employed for the purpose of receiving and opening letters and taking possession of the money. If he used that money himself, swindling his employers or any one else, in doing so he could be charged with no offence as against the government. The custody, right, and property, had passed out of the hands of the Post Office to Buck & Co. through their agent. The misconduct of their agent was recognizable by State laws, where the employer's remedy would be. The construction of Mr. Hoyne might convict the owner himself as well as the agent. The embezzlement written in the act must be, not of the money only but of the letter. Could a man be guilty of embezzlement in taking his own letters?

Mr. Hoyne again made a few remarks explanatory of the points upon which the prosecution depended for conviction.

[illegible]

GOOD NEWS FROM NEW YORK.

The Prohibitory Liquor Law, recently enacted by the Legislature of New York was signed by Governor CLARK on the 9th instant, and thus the act has the sanction and solemnity of law.

And now that the friends of humanity in New York have succeeded in accomplishing what they have long been earnestly and anxiously laboring for, it is due to the cause they represent that the law be enforced, from the time it goes into effect, in every county in the State, not even excepting that mighty cauldron of intemperance, New York City. The eyes of the people of the West will be upon them, and the character of all prohibitory liquor laws will be made popular or unpopular, just as the friends of the measure in New York may determine. Enforce it rigidly, and stop the appalling increase of crime and pauperism there, even if they cannot be lessened at once, and it will make hundreds of thousands of doubting friends, scattered in the various States of the Union, its utmost supporters.

For the Tribune.

NO TIME TO LOSE.

Why are the friends of the Prohibitory Liquor Law not holding street meetings in Chicago?

It is very well to meet together evening after evening in churches, halls, &c., to discuss the law and keep the people in remembrance of their duty in the coming struggle, but beside these, we want not only one but many meetings on the street, in the market spaces or elsewhere, where all classes may be reached.

Experience has proved that such meetings are very beneficial in aiding great reforms like the present one. We have to meet, at the coming June election, an army which is in league with Beelzebub himself, and we should leave nothing untried which can aid the cause of truth, and help to rid us of the deadly, blasting curse of Rum.

Let us have a street mass meeting immediately. When and on what evening shall the first one be held?

ANTI WHISKEY.

BANK OF RACINE.

We learn that J. Bell, Esq., of Milwaukee, has resigned the Presidency of this Bank, and that Isaac Taylor, Esq., of this city, has been elected to fill the vacancy. The Bank of Racine was one of the first organized under our present excellent Banking Laws and has always maintained a high position for its good management, promptness in business, and courteous officers.—The capital stock of the Bank is to be largely increased immediately.

Mr. Taylor is too well known in this community to need any recommendation from us. Blessed with more than ample wealth, and a disposition liberal in proportion to his means, he has always been the first in any enterprise calculated to benefit the city or increase the happiness of those around him. As a business man he has been remarkably successful, and a few weeks since sold out his interest in the lumbering business of Taylor & Pendleton for $55,000.

Henry J. Ullmann, Esq., who has been Cashier of the Bank from the first, continues at his post. The Bank owes much of its popularity and prosperity to his suavity of manner and honorable dealings with its customers; and now, with a home President, increase of capital and the old Bank officers, this institution cannot fail to prove equally profitable to its stockholders, and beneficial to the business interests of Racine.—Racine Advocate.

ACCOUNTS OF THE LATE COLLECTOR RICHARDSON.—It turns out that according to the books of the Treasury, Jacob Richardson, late Collector at Oswego, N. Y., is a defaulter to the tune of $202,000, for the recovery of which his bail are now being sued. The aggregate amount of the bonds under which Richardson's defalcations occurred, is but $45,000, which will doubtless be recovered, and perhaps something more. It will be recollected that Richardson died not long since in Canada, and that for some time it was currently believed that the account of his death was a ruse, put out to aid him in eluding the officers who were after him to arrest him, under the penal clause of the sub-treasury law. —Wash. Star, Tuesday.

OYSTERS FOR THE SUMMER.—The committee on public health in New York held a meeting on Thursday, when a delegation of oystermen appeared to urge the repeal of the ordinance forbidding the sale of oysters between the months of May and December. This ordinance was passed in 1839, but has been most of the time inoperative. The Post says:

Dealers of thirty, forty, and even fifty years standing, testified to the healthfulness of the transplanted Virginia oyster. Bringing it thence to our own waters about the latter part of April has the effect of postponing the spawning season for the summer. When not spawning, oysters are quite as eatable and healthy in summer as in the winter months. Nine-tenths of those sold in our markets during hot weather are declared to be transplanted, and even of the spawns, it is said, that they are merely unpalatable, not poisonous.

It was also testified that no less than 10,000 persons, and two hundred vessels are engaged in the business of transplanting from Virginia, and that a capital of $5,000,000 must be invested in the oyster trade of this city, on a moderate calculation. The reason of the prohibitory law was stated to be that, at the time of its passage, people in summer lived on the native spawning crops; and consequently it is urged that, in view of the change introduced by transplantation, it should be repealed.

MARRIED,

On the 12th inst., in this City, by the Rev. [illegible], P. A. SPENCER, Esq., and Miss M. G. GOODRIDGE, all of this City.

DIED

On Thursday, April 12th, aged [illegible] years and five months, DANIEL [illegible] BRYAN, only child of Thomas B. and Jennie B. Bryan.

Friends of the family are invited to attend the funeral at [illegible] o'clock on Saturday morning, from the residence, No. [illegible] Michigan Avenue.

In St. Louis, on the [illegible] inst., at the residence of his son-in-law, (Morris Collins) Rev. JOHN M. [illegible], D.D., of Quincy, Ill., in the [illegible] year of his age.

WORMS, WORMS.

Various theories have been started relative to the origin of intestinal worms, and yet the question is still a vexed one among medical authorities. Of one fact, however, all are informed, and in which all agree—the fatal nature of the influence they exert on children. At this season of the year the attacks of worms are most frequent as well as most dangerous. We take great pleasure in directing the attention of parents to the Vermifuge of Dr. M'Lane. It is one of the most extraordinary medicines ever introduced to the public, and has never failed of success when tried.

Purchasers will please be careful to ask for, and take none but DR. M'LANE'S VERMIFUGE. All others, in comparison, are worthless.

P.S.—Dr. M'Lane's celebrated Vermifuge, also his Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in this city.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS, the best Remedy for Bad Legs, and all kinds of Wounds.—[illegible]

From the Boston Traveller.

Dr. WARREN's well-known medicine continues to maintain their high position in the public esteem, which fact is quite natural, if not inevitable, when their rare virtues are taken into account. [illegible]

In reply to a request made by the Friends of Temperance at a late meeting of the West Chicago Temperance Union, a number of gentlemen have left their names with the Editor of this paper, who hold themselves ready to lecture upon the Prohibitory Liquor Law when called upon, or to procure the services of others to fill appointments. Those interested can obtain all information by addressing the Editor, at this Office.

HIGH RENTS AND HIGH PRICES.

A man should be made of money to live in Chicago. Live as economically and carefully as he may, his expenses for the most absolute necessaries and indispensables of life will amount up to a sum that will frighten him, and with good reason. There is a limit to every thing else on earth save the prices for food and rent in Chicago. These alone seem illimitable.

Until recently, beef was sold in North and West Chicago at lower rates than in the South town, but on yesterday the price in the two former divisions was raised, and now in the three markets of the city beef is sold at 12 1-2 cents per pound. No one but a millionaire can afford to eat beef at that price. It is too much. It is out of all reason. With Beef Cattle selling here at $4 50 and 75 gross, 12 1-2 cents per pound affords too wide a margin.

There is a way to bring down the price of meat in this city. If meat stalls were allowed to be opened all over the city, and butchers allowed to sell when and where they pleased, the competition would soon lower the price. As it is, the monopoly in the business which now exists enables the few persons engaged in the business to control it as they see fit.

Will not our City Fathers take this matter into their consideration? Let us try for a few months at least, how free trade in beef will work. It can do no harm—it may do great good. Will not the Council permit us to try it?

As to the high rents no such remedy can apply. The only way which tenants can cherish to brighten the gloom which comes down around them every quarter-day, is, that proprietors will build more houses and have more to supply the demand. And we are glad to see that there are many more houses being built this season than ever before. If we can contrive to squeeze through the present pressure there is a prospect that a time will come when it will not take all the money that a man can earn to pay his landlord and his butcher.

Chicago Female Seminary.

The examination of this flourishing institution, situated on Clark street near Madison, commenced yesterday morning, and was attended by some of the parents and friends of the pupils. The exercises were quite interesting and very satisfactory; and were highly creditable to Mr. Sawyer, to his able corps of assistant teachers, and to the young ladies themselves.—We were surprised, however, to see so few spectators present.

The classes examined were as follows:

THE CASE OF CONTEMPT.

The argument in the case of alleged contempt of Court, was resumed before the Hon. R. S. Wilson, in the Circuit Court, yesterday morning.

Mr. Walker, in behalf of the Recorder and in opposition to the release of Mr. Waite, spoke in substance as follows:

He would confine himself to the facts of the case. The two main points in the case were, "Is the Recorder's Court a court of competent jurisdiction?" and "can this Court go behind the records of that one, and enquire into the facts of the case?" The gentleman who spoke yesterday labored to prove that the Recorder's Court is a court of inferior powers. The stamp of inferiority, he said, was impressed upon it at its birth. Now, he would take the position that the Recorder's Court was not an inferior court in the common acceptation of the term. Cited [illegible] Wendall 404, and the act creating the Recorder's Court, and argues therefrom that the said Court was equal in its own jurisdiction, to the Common Pleas and Circuit Court. The powers of the Recorder's Court are as general as those of this Court. The jurisdiction of that Court may be limited, but it is not inferior. Cites 21 Wendall 58. The records of the Recorder's Court then, must stand the same as those of any other court.

The question then arises, has that Court the power to punish contempt? The first section of the act creating that Court gives it the same powers as the Circuit Court possesses; and what are those powers? (Reads from the Statute.) Here then are the powers of the Circuit Court, and among them the power of punishing for contempt. The Recorder's Court therefore has the same powers.

Had the Recorder's Court jurisdiction over the subject matter in this particular case? Most clearly so. (The Court here interrupted Mr. Walker, by stating that he had no doubt on that point, and that argument on it was unnecessary.)

In regard to the validity of the commitment Mr. Walker cited 1 Hill 156 and 158, and contended in answer to the position taken by Mr. Goodrich "that Mr. Waite should have had a trial and an opportunity of purging the contempt"—that if such a trial was necessary, he had had such trial—that this Court must presume that such trial had taken place. The argument contained in this citation is very long, and quite conclusive as to the validity of similar commitment in like cases.—Ibid.—Cites also Johnson 873. Laws of 1853 p. 123.

Mr. Walker then read the order of commitment and commented thereon; admitting that it might have been written in a more elegant language, but that still it was sufficient in substance and good in form.

And now we come to the second great point in the case,—"Can this Court go behind the record and inquire into the facts of the case?" (Reads from the statute in regard to Habeas Corpus.) The prisoner then, may deny any of the material facts set forth in the return, but he cannot go behind the record. Cites also 3 Hill 658 n. Refers to the authorities cited on the other side, especially Hurbell's case, and argues that nothing had been adduced to shake this position in the least. Cites further Eng. Common Law Rep. 67. 11 Adolphus & Ellis 273.

Mr. Walker concluded his remarks by an eloquent defence of the Recorder, and the Court adjourned till ten o'clock this morning.

IMPROVEMENT.—Our cotemporary, the Democratic Press, came to hand yesterday, in a handsome new dress, and looking as pleasant to the eye as new type and good material and execution could make it. In this respect it is unsurpassed by any paper in the West, and is highly creditable to its publishers.

THE POST OFFICE AND LOTTERY CASE.

The developments made in this case which we report in full to-day are remarkable and weighty. The evidence has disclosed the existence and operation, in our city, of a stupendous scheme of fraud and villainy, which has been practiced for some time and which would have continued much longer had not it received this check. Here it has been [illegible] from fifty to one hundred letters a day, from all parts of the country, a portion of which the agent neglects to answer, pockets the money, and blames the post office for the loss. There is a way to bring down the price of meat in this city. If meat stalls were allowed to be opened all over the city, and butchers allowed to sell when and where they pleased, the competition would soon lower the price. As it is, the monopoly in the business which now exists enables the few persons engaged in the business to control it as they see fit.

Will not our City Fathers take this matter into their consideration? Let us try for a few months at least, how free trade in beef will work. It can do no harm—it may do great good. Will not the Council permit us to try it?

As to the high rents no such remedy can apply. The only way which tenants can cherish to brighten the gloom which comes down around them every quarter day, is, that proprietors will build more houses and have more to supply the demand. And we are glad to see that there are many more houses being built this season than ever before. If we can contrive to squeeze through the present pressure there is a prospect that a time will come when it will not take all the money that a man can earn to pay his landlord and his butcher.

Chicago Female Seminary.

The examination of this flourishing institution, situated on Clark Street near Madison, commenced yesterday morning, and was attended by some of the parents and friends of the pupils. The exercises were quite interesting and very satisfactory; and were highly creditable to Mr. Sawyer, to his able corps of assistant teachers, and to the young ladies themselves.—We were surprised, however, to see so few spectators present.

The classes examined were as follows:

FORENOON.

9 O'clock	Universal History,		By Mr. Sawyer
"	"	Reading,	Miss Burritt
"	"	Grammar,	Miss Marsh
10	"	Algebra,	Miss Perrine
"	"	Mental Arithmetic,	Miss Marsh
"	"	Practical	Miss Burritt
11	"	Rhetoric	Mr. Sawyer

Preamble and Resolutions.

Adopted by the Grand Jury of the city of Chicago, April 12, 1855.

Regarding a proper observance of the Sabbath to be essential to good morals and progressive civilization, and believing such observance to be indicative of the education and character of a people, and that the reputation and business welfare of a city is intimately connected with its morals.

Resolved, That the action of our City Council in preventing the sale of intoxicating drinks on Sunday meets with our cordial and decided approbation.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions signed by the Foreman and Clerk, be presented to the Mayor and Common Council, and to the newspapers of the city with a request for publication.

P. B. RISK, Foreman.

J. M. LEWY, Sec'y.

AMERICAN PEACE SOCIETY.

Rev. A. C. HART, agent of the American Peace Society, is now in this city, for the purpose of collecting the favorable consideration and support of our citizens in behalf of the objects of the Society. [illegible]

THE CASE OF CONTEMPT.

The argument in the case of alleged contempt of Court, was resumed before the Hon. R. S. Manns, in the Circuit Court, yesterday morning.

Mr. Walker, in behalf of the Recorder and in opposition to the release of Mr. Waite, spoke in substance as follows:

He would confine himself to the facts of the case. The two main points in the case were, "Is the Recorder's Court a court of competent jurisdiction?" and "can this Court go behind the records of that one, and enquire into the facts of the case?" The gentleman who spoke yesterday labored to prove that the Recorder's Court is a court of inferior powers. The stamp of inferiority, he said, was impressed upon it at its birth. Now, he would take the position that the Recorder's Court was not an inferior court in the common acceptance of the term. Cites 17 Wendall 484, and the act creating the Recorder's Court, and argues therefrom that the said Court was equal in its own jurisdiction, to the Common Pleas and Circuit Court. The powers of the Recorder's Court are as general as those of this Court. The jurisdiction of that Court may be limited, but it is not inferior. Cites 21 Wendall 40. The records of the Recorder's Court then, must stand the same as those of any other court.

The question then arises, has that Court the power to punish contempts? The first section of the act creating that Court gives it the same powers as the Circuit Court possesses; and what are those powers? (Reads from the Statute.) Here then are the powers of the Circuit Court, and among them the power of punishing for contempt. The Recorder's Court therefore has the same powers.

Had the Recorder's Court jurisdiction over the subject matter in this particular case? Most clearly so. (The Court here interrupted Mr. Walker, by stating that he had no doubt on that point, and that argument on it was unnecessary.)

In regard to the validity of the commitment Mr. Walker cited 1 Hill 156 and 159, and contended in answer to the position taken by Mr. Goodrich "that Mr. Waite should have had a trial and an opportunity of purging the contempt"—that if such a trial was necessary, he had had such trial—that this Court must presume that such trial had taken place. (The argument contained in this citation is very long; and quite conclusive as to the validity of similar commitment in like cases.—REP.) Cites also 4 Johnson 873. Laws of 1852 p. 123.

Mr. Walker then read the order of commitment and commented thereon; admitting that it might have been written in a more elegant language, but that still it was sufficient in substance, and good in form.

And now we come to the second great point in the case, "Can this Court go behind the record, and inquire into the facts of the case?" (Reads from the statute in regard to Habeas Corpus.) The prisoner then, may deny any of the material facts set forth in the return, but he cannot go behind the record. Cites also 3 Hill 258 n. Refers to the authorities cited on the other side, especially Burbell's case, and argues that nothing had been adduced to shake this position in the least. Cites farther Eng. Common Law Rep. 67. 11 Adolphus & Ellis 273.

Mr. Walker concluded his remarks by an eloquent defence of the Recorder, and the Court adjourned till ten o'clock this morning.

IMPROVEMENT.—Our cotemporary, the Democratic Press, came to hand yesterday, in a handsome new dress, and looking as pleasant to the eye as new type and good mechanical execution could make it. In this respect it is unsurpassed by any paper in the West, and is highly creditable to its publishers.

THE POST OFFICE AND LOTTERY CASE

The developments made in this case which we report in full to-day are remarkable and weighty. Its evidence has disclosed the existence and operation in our city of a stupendous scheme of fraud and villainy, which has been practiced for some time and which would have continued much longer had not it received this check. Here is a house receiving from fifty to one hundred letters a day, from all parts of the country, a portion of which the agent neglects to answer, pockets the money, and blames the post office for the loss. Its officers are cursed for negligence and dishonesty, and the letter writers loose their money. Much credit is due to Mr. Pinkerton for the care he has taken in ferreting out the rascals.

RECORDER'S COURT.

The undersigned Jurors of the Recorder's Court for the present April term, deem the rule commendable and just, to all parties, adopted by the Recorder, the Hon. R. S. Wilson, in restricting the Attorneys in the many trifling Appeal Suits, to a limited term in addressing the Jury. Each case depending upon its importance and the number and intricacy of the questions involved in the issue, no arbitrary period of discussion being fixed in all cases, but leaving each to the sound discretion of the Judge.

ARRIVAL OF THE WASHINGTON.

New York, April 12.

The steamer Washington with four days later news from Europe, is coming up the bay.

The allies propose conditions disagreeable to Russia.

The Russians had attacked the whole line of the allies at Sebastopol on the 17th of March.

They were driven back with great loss.

Consols 93.

Cotton firm, sales 26,000 bales in three days.

Breadstuffs unchanged.

SECOND DISPATCH.

The Washington arrived at her dock about half past seven o'clock with 130 passengers.

Odessa advices to the 24th state that the Russians, in spite of repeated attacks maintained their positions, and their guns play upon the lines and part of the camp. The weather continued very fine. The advanced batteries of the British were making considerable progress.

According to a deserter's information, the news of the Emperor's death had not been promulgated at Sebastopol.

Prospects for converting Sinope into a Fort and erecting extensive land and sea fortifications at Sebastopol considered favorable by the British government.

Omer Pascha arrived at the allied camp on the 12th.

On the 13th the Russians opened fire from the heights of Balaklava. The English assisted by Gen Kuoye routed them.

On the 17th the Russians attacked the whole line of the Allies, and were driven back with great loss.

The alliance between Sardinia and the Porte was signed on the 14th. Preparations continued to be made at Constantinople to receive Napoleon. In the meantime both Emperors are to visit Queen Victoria on the 16th of April.

France agrees, says the Morning Herald, to send 50,000 more men to the Crimea if necessary after the conference, provided England furnishes the means of conveyance.

It is understood that the conference has agreed on the 2d point. The critical 3d point, on which the question of war or peace depends, was under consideration, and would occupy several days. The destruction of Sebastopol is not to be demanded.

A later despatch says that all conjecture as to the result was idle.

Sardinia was in the English market for a loan of 3,000,000 at 3 per cent.

In the House of Commons Sir Charles Wood stated it was decided, as soon as the Baltic ports were open, to establish a strict blockade which should be effective from first to last.

The committee of inquiry into the management of the war continued its sessions and its revelations become still more appalling.

The latest from Vienna, dated March 27, states that "the political horizon had become still more gloomy."

The British Baltic fleet were at Spithead and expected to sail with Admiral Dundas on the 2d of April.

New York, April 12.

The Kinney Central American expedition appears to be taking a new start. Emigrants are being enrolled in this city and a steamer is advertised to sail for San Juan and Nicaragua on the 27th inst.

New York, April 12.

The steamship Star of the West sailed this P. M. for San Juan, Nicaragua, with a full compliment of passengers.

Boston, April 12.

In the Circuit Court this morning, Judge Curtiss delivered an opinon in the case against Theodore Parker and others, to the effect that the indictments were void on the ground that the process was not sufficiently set forth in the same, and that is was not alleged that the Commissioner in the Burns case had legal cognizance. All the accused were therefore ordered to be discharged. The result was recived with shouts of applause by the spectators.

We have nothing further from Halifax to-day the telegraph being out of order east of Belfast. The America is already over due.

All the hotels, public buildings, &c., hung their flags out to day in honor of the birth day of Henry Clay.

Rev. Dr. Scudder, Missionary of the American Board in India, died at Cape Town, Africa, on the 13th of January of apoplexy. He had left Madras and taken residence near Cape Town for his health.

Washington, April 12.

The Union of this morning says that Com. McAuley will leave this city this A. M. for Philadelphia, and will leave immediately for the Gulf in the Steam Frigate San Jacinto. The Commander has received his instructions from the President.
